Seamless Support and Enhanced Performance

Future-Proof Your ZEISS Electron Microscopy Systems

ZEISS Lifetime Extension

Upgrade your ZEISS electron microscopy systems with the ZEISS Lifetime Extension to ensure extended guaranteed system support, seamless software transition, and enhanced system capabilities.
Designed to keep your research uninterrupted and at the cutting edge, the ZEISS Lifetime Extension offers advanced features to maximise the potential of your microscopes.

Availability

The ZEISS Lifetime Extension upgrade will be rolled out across ZEISS electron microscopy systems, actually including:

- EVO
- GeminiSEM
- Crossbeam
- Sigma
- Merlin

Key Benefits

Extended Guaranteed Support
Ensure your system remains fully supported with extended guaranteed system support, providing access to ZEISS Protect Service Agreements and for years to come.

Transition to Next-Gen Software
Transition to the advanced ZEN core for EM software platform, designed specifically for electron microscopy users. Built on the robust ZEN core platform, it offers a modern foundation with integrated toolkits for imaging and analysis, enhanced automation, and unified control for efficient research workflows.

Upgradeability for Tomorrow's Innovations
By upgrading now, your system gains access to future breakthroughs like advanced sample preparation with TEM Lamella Prep, cutting-edge detectors for complex research needs, and automated imaging to streamline workflows.

Main Applications

Future-proofed Research
Keep your lab ahead of technological obsolescence with a fully supported, future-ready system, minimising downtime and maximising research productivity.

Enhanced Imaging and Analysis
Unlock the full potential of ZEN core for EM's features, delivering improved precision, stability, better user experience, and new possibilities for imaging and data analysis.

Efficient Workflow Integration
Optimise your operations with seamless hardware and software integration, supporting a wide range of advanced applications.

Upgrade Your Microscope

Invest in the Lifetime Extension Package to safeguard your system's performance and reliability. With guaranteed support, cuttingedge software capabilities, and hardware upgrade paths, this package is the ultimate solution for keeping your ZEISS electron microscopy systems at the forefront of research.
